

About the Editors

Dr. Rajiba Lochan Mohapatra, an Assistant Professor in the Department of Education at The University of Burdwan, has been serving the institution for the past ten years. Prior to this, he dedicated six years to Ramakrishna Mission Shikshanamandira, contributing significantly to the academic and pedagogical landscape. With an impressive research portfolio, Dr. Mohapatra has successfully guided four Ph.D. scholars to completion. His scholarly contributions extend to authoring seven books on Education, along with publishing approximately fifteen research articles in esteemed national and international journals. His academic endeavors reflect a deep commitment to advancing educational research and pedagogy.

Dr. Arpan Das is an Assistant Professor in the Department of B.Ed. at Katwa College, University of Burdwan. Born in June 1987 in Sainthia, West Bengal, he completed his B.A. (2008), M.A. (2010), and B.Ed. (2012) from Jadavpur University, followed by M.Ed. (2014) and M.Phil. (2016) from the University of Calcutta, focusing on corporal punishment in India. Dr. Das earned his Ph.D. in Education from the University of Burdwan in 2023. He has worked as a research assistant in several prestigious projects, including "BICITRA" and the "Print Tagore Project." His research interests include Bharatiya Knowledge System, immigrant education, AI in education, and comparative educational policy. He has published books and research papers in national and international journals and actively contributes to educational research. Dr. Das is dedicated to improving educational frameworks, particularly for marginalized groups, and is passionate about incorporating traditional Indian knowledge into modern education.

Dr. Somnath Das, an assistant professor at CDOE, The University of Burdwan, boasts a prolific publication record, with over 20 volumes showcased on both national and international stages. Delving deeper, Dr. Das has contributed over 80 research papers, book chapters, and articles across a spectrum of journals. Unconfined by borders, he has participated in various seminars, conferences, symposiums, and workshops, presenting papers at most of them. Dr. Das's academic pursuits know no bounds, reflecting his insatiable curiosity and passion for diverse subjects.

Revisiting the Past Knowledge tradition of Bharat: A critique

Dr. R. L. Mohapatra
Dr. A. Das
Dr. S. Das

Revisiting the Past Knowledge tradition of Bharat: A critique

Edited by

Dr. Rajiba Lochan Mohapatra • Dr. Arpan Das • Dr. Somnath Das